

Small black holes often have a partner like a large star, white dwarf, or pulsar. Sadly, unicorns don't get to join the party.